Currently the City of New York is embarking on a Citywide Proucruement Innovation program and we are seeking information from different sources to find the product defferentiators in this field of software candidates. NYC procurement process is inherently very complex as it has 14 different types of procurement methods, dozens of business rules and incorporates several local laws. Approximately 20,000 procurements and procurement actions were taken through the tracking process using our software in 2012. Using these actions, the City has purchased over $10B worth of goods and services.
