

GSA Leasing Support Services (GLS Plus)

Leveraging Private Sector Expertise in Lease Acquisition

Background and Benefits

GLS Plus is the result of three preceding national contracts and nearly 15 years of experience and knowledge gained. These contracts provide broker and leasing support services (i.e., market surveys, site visits and inspections, document preparation, and negotiations) for GSA's lease contracting officers. GSA's previous national broker contracts have saved taxpayers approximately $432 million in lease cost avoidance through rent credits to GSA's customers housed in leased space. GLS Plus emphasizes taxpayer savings, leverages commercial real estate broker expertise, and improves the federal customer agency experience from requirements development through construction management. GSA intends to award nearly 39 million square feet in task orders to the GLS Plus brokers. GSA anticipates small businesses will receive approximately $70 million in broker commissions through their participation in GLS Plus.

What Resources Does GLS Plus Offer Customers?

GLS Plus emphasizes taxpayer savings, improves the federal agency customer experience from requirements development through occupancy, and leverages private sector expertise. This contract signals both a stretch toward greater innovation and higher performance expectations from our external partners. Building on the successes of the past, multi-disciplined, interdivisional and cross-regional teams, including Program Officials, Leasing Specialists, and Contracting Officers, developed the GLS Plus Statement of Work.
