

*Do You Want to...
Make a Government Wide Impact?
Enhance Unique Skills?*

Become a ... CSAW Facilitator!

Make a Difference in Government Contracting!

What is Civilian Services Acquisition Workshop?

A Civilian Services Acquisition Workshop (SAW or CSAW) is a facilitated requirements development workshop built around a specific acquisition and its multi-functional integrated project team (IPT). The workshop walks the complete team through the Steps to Performance Based Acquisition (PBA) process from beginning to end.

Why Become a CSAW Facilitator/ Co-Facilitator?

- Professional Development & Skill Enhancement
- Networking Opportunities
- Recognition & Certification
- Access to Free Training
- Contributing to Government Efficiency
- Flexibility & Diverse Skill Development
- Engaging & Collaborative Work
- Recognition by Government Leadership
- Supportive Community
- CLPs for Facilitating

Click here to review Certification Memo

Are You a Good Fit For Facilitation?

Characteristics.....Enjoy working with people Think quickly and logically Communicate clearly and expressively Practice active listening skills Convey warmth Demonstrate self-confidence Have a business orientation	Experience.....Current or former 1102 Conducts training FAC-C and/or FAC P/PM or DAWIA Skill Set Needed.....Facilitation Acquisition Knowledge ExpectationsCapacity to facilitate 2 or more workshops a year
---	--

CSAW Background

For the last four years, GSA, through FAS's Office of Professional Services & Human Capital Categories, has been offering facilitated requirements development and acquisition planning workshops, known as Civilian Services Acquisition Workshops (CSAWs).

These workshops are built around an agency's specific acquisition and its multi-functional integrated project team (IPT). The workshop walks the complete team through the performance-based acquisition (PBA) process.

At the end of the workshop the team will have a vision, mission, and high level measurable objectives for their agency's requirement. The team will also have begun the development of requirements, performance standards, and performance-based strategies, as well as have crafted a plan for completing each of these components.

We have provided over 30 workshops, representing over $33 Billion in services spent.